Course Outline 2016
INTBUS 305: Governing International Business (15 POINTS)
Semester 2 (1165)

Course Prescription
Examines the interactions between governing actors and international businesses. Considers the international firm as a political strategist and competitor.

Programme and Course Advice
Prerequisites: BUSINESS 200 or INTBUS 201 or 210 or 211
Restrictions: INTBUS 304

Goals of the Course
INTBUS 305 considers the internationalized firm in a global political context. It asks what role the MNE plays in international relations. It considers the international legal framework within which MNEs function and looks at the antagonistic and cooperative relationships MNEs forge with host nations. It asks how the multinational enterprise manages its exposure to multiple sovereign states. The course also examines why, when, and how MNEs intervene in the political sphere in order to secure advantages over their rivals in the marketplace.

Learning Outcomes
By the end of this course it is expected that the student will be able to:
1. Discriminate between competing political conceptualisations of the MNE;
2. appreciate how and why non-market actors in the seek to shape the conduct of international businesses;
3. examine how MNEs manage their relationships with governments;
4. propose appropriate strategic responses to threats and opportunities arising in a firm’s political task environment
